STEELE'S SERVICE STATION

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

While visiting Madam Voo Doo's fortune telling booth in the fall of 1975, I saw thru her crystal ball what the members of the class of 1960 were doing:

As I looked thru her crystal ball, I saw Ollie standing knee deep in an irrigation ditch directing all her hired men on her 3,000 acre farm. Did she ever marry? Oh, sure! Her husband was up at the house changing diapers and warming bottles.

Suddenly the crystal ball changed to a purple haze and there before my gaze I saw Della, Queen of the Spanish vineyards, stomping grapes in her barefeet.

Thru her crystal ball I saw Tom, feet propped up on a chair teaching by way of television. Physics? Heaven's no!! He was coaching his "redheads", ages 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, in the fine arts of basketball.

Then I saw Don commanding a great merchant ship. But wait, was he really commanding? I looked like the little woman had a belying pin over his head!

Suddenly, the crystal ball brought forth the brightest vision of all and there was a sign above a beautiful building. It read "Judy's School of Charm" and in small print "for the prize winning animals of Carl's farm."

Finally, I saw the national finals rodeo and coming out on the bare-back of the year, Jim. Did he ride him? You bet he did! But not until the whistle blew.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We the class of 1960, upon graduating from Blunt High wish to leave some of our most treasured possessions to our underclassmen.

To the coming Freshmen, we will all the good times we had throughout our high school years.

To the coming Sophomores, we will our ability to get along so well with the teachers.

To next year's Juniors, we will our well organized class meetings. We know you will cherish this forever!

To the coming Seniors, we will our excellent grades so that they may all receive scholarships from Yale University as we did.

Now we will each leave our last remaining possession to another student.

Ollie wills her long hair and flirty eyes to Carol Yeager in the hopes that she'll be careful where she uses them.

To Rhonda and Lois, Judy wills her determination to have perfect attendance in hopes that they will succeed in doing it.

Tom wills his ability to draw injuries to anyone that wants them.

Jim wills his long legs to Jim Hinckley so that he can be a better basketball player.

To Don Korkow, Don wills his ability to argue. Use this often, Don, but always for a good honest purpose.

Della wills her vacant seat in the assembly to one of the Juniors.
